GAME PREVIEW By Norm Weber

Friday night, inside Bob Boulton Stadium and on Byers Field, St. Edward football, the defending two-time state champions in Ohio and the pool champions for 2023, will put their outfit on the field against McKinley in at northeast region big-school semifinal.

One thing these two programs have in common is that they both have tradition of one sort or another. McKinley has been playing football since 1894 and St. Ed's since 1949. Both have won a good chunk of state championships.

The Bulldogs have running back Nino Hill, who has rushed for around 1,000 yards.

"The running back has some MAC offers," said St. Edward Head Coach Tom Lombardo. "The DBs, the corners and a safety, also have some offers."

With five touchdowns on the season is Keith Quincy, who also plays defensive back. He had a pick-six a couple weeks ago.

"The quarterback is a three-year starter," Coach Lombardo said.

Offensively, McKinley has Keaton Rode at quarterback. Rode has thrown for over 2,000 yards.

"They are definitely athletic," Coach Lombardo said. "The quarterback is very poised. He reminds me a lot of the kid (Bryce Schondelmyer) from Springfield last year. The guy can keep the play alive on the run and he keeps looking down the field to throw after he escapes the pocket. He's very good."

That means the Pups give a look of pass and run, which makes it tricky for an opponent who is anticipating one thing and gets another.

"They can do both equally well," Coach Lombardo said. "They give you a lot of spread formations at times to try to spread the box and run it up inside. That's a way they can get the receivers and to isolate as well with those looks."

Each team has played two Division II powers in Massillon and Hoban for St. Ed's and Massillon and Avon for McKinley. The Eagles are 1-1 against such powers and the Bulldogs 0-2. Both schools look to have the best schedule they can have every year.

"I don't care what the division they are," the coach said. "They are really good teams with players who are talented. Our schedule speaks for itself, no matter the size of its school. They'll get the players on the field and it is pretty impressive."

Moreover, the Bulldogs (9-3) and Eagles (11-1) have three common opponents. St. Ed's lost to Massillon by a couple extra points and the Pups lost to the Tigers, 35-0, in their 134th meeting of the rivalry. St.

Ed's defeated St. Ignatius, 42-7, in their rivalry that is also one of the best nationally, and the Bulldogs beat the Wildcats in overtime last week to get to this game. A third team has GlenOak defeating McKinley and the Golden Eagles falling to St. Ed's last week.

"That (common opponents) helps to get a feel for it," Coach Lombardo said. "We get on the field and we know the type of team and caliber of talent they are playing."

McKinley started strong, but then lost a few weeks ago to GlenOak, which was on a five-game winning streak.

"They faltered against Glen-Oak and picked it back up again, certainly in the playoffs" Coach Lombardo said. "I think it is going to be quite a test at Byers."

Although the venue is closer to St. Ed's than Canton, a one-hour bus ride verses a 35-minute one probably will not matter. The Eagles are the designated "home" team because they won the computer region.

"Byers is where they like to put the northeast Ohio Division I games," Coach Lombardo said.

The Eagles are riding off a great victory against GlenOak, the defense's third shutout in succession, the offense putting up five touchdowns and the special teams making some eye-opening plays.

"The three shutouts in a row for the defense is outstanding," Coach Lombardo said. "That at least gives us a vote of confidence. If and when a team scores you can't take it to be the end of the world. It's bound to happen. We hope not, but the odds tell us that the games get more difficult once we go deeper into the playoffs."

All of this comes down to fundamentals.

"We're covering well, we're tackling well, and pressuring the quarterback when we have to," Lombardo explained. "So we are doing it in dominating ways, getting good field position, and we are playing efficiently on offense, which is what we really want. I call that Complementary football. This allows us to control the tempo of the game, which allows us to be in charge,"

Defensively, the Bulldogs are led by linebacker Shaukeer Hatcher who has over 110 tackles, close to 20 tackles for losses, three sacks and three interceptions.

On the defensive line, the Pups are led by K'Vuone McNeal and Braylon Minor. McNeal has nine sacks Minor has six. They are 1-2 on the team in dropping the quarterback.
