GAME PREVIEW

By Norm Weber

St. Edward vs. Hoban

Overview

On Friday night, St. Edward will face one of their toughest and most unique challenges this season as they travel to Akron to compete against fellow Holy Cross school, Hoban. The game is set for 7 p.m. at the Dowd field and features two strong teams, both holding impressive 8-1 records heading into this matchup.

Recent Performance and Rivalry

St. Edward enters the game after a victory over Moeller last Saturday. Head Coach Tom Lombardo emphasized the need for the team to quickly shift focus to the next challenge, noting Hoban's roster of Division I players and their clinching of the top seed in their region. Hoban is recognized as the number one team in Division II, Region five making this game a significant test for the Eagles.

The history between the two teams adds to the anticipation. St. Edward defeated Hoban in 2021, 2022, and 2023, but lost a close contest in 2024. In 2016, Hoban, then 14-1, was narrowly defeated when Mel Jackson blocked a game-winning field goal attempt, securing a 10-7 win for the Eagles. The rivalry has grown increasingly competitive over the years.

Team Analysis

Coach Lombardo highlighted Hoban's strong running game, led by two talented tailbacks Brayton Feister and Jance Henry a notable transfer player from Pennsylvania. These backs operate behind a sizable offensive line, posing a unique challenge for St. Edward's defense. Peyton Cook stepped in as quarterback last week for the injured Nick Kinsey, though his starting status for this game remains uncertain. The Eagles are preparing for the possibility of facing either of Hoban's two quarterbacks.

St. Edward's own high-scoring offense will be tested by Hoban's solid defense. The Knights feature a formidable front four, including Ace Brown a defensive end committed to Colorado State, two linebacker brothers Brayton and Brandon Feister, and Elbert "Rock" Hill a four-year starter at cornerback who is heading to USC. Coach Lombardo noted the wealth of talent across Hoban's lineup.

Preparation and Mindset

Leading up to the game, St. Edward focused on building confidence through early practices. Coach Lombardo expressed hope for a strong matchup, emphasizing that the outcome depends on performance that night and acknowledging the variability in team performance from game to game.

The Eagles enjoyed their recent win against Moeller on a pleasant Saturday, but Coach Lombardo reminded the team that their only loss resulted from an off night. He stressed the importance of staying consistent and maintaining their course, crediting the team's challenging schedule and competitive environment for preparing them for both this matchup and the upcoming playoffs.

This game represents another critical step in St. Edward's playoff preparation. Coach Lombardo described Hoban as a physical, aggressive team with two 225-pound backs who excel at downhill running. He acknowledged that this level of challenge is new for the Eagles this season and that the true test will come on game night.
